Seaboard Railroad considering night closings of Pearl bridge

BY DENA BISNETTE

Officials of Seaboard Railroad Systems are expected to decide sometime this week whether to close the Pearl River Bridge to navigation at night.

According to Jim Davis, an assistant superintendent in the railroad's Mobile, Ala., office, permission from the U.S. Coast Guard would have to be obtained before the bridge could be closed.

Davis said Saturday closing the bridge for several hours, presently undetermined but with midnight to 8 a.m. among the possibilities being discussed, would mean that boats wishing to cross at the bridge during the night would have to give prior notice.

"We would not have someone at the bridge around the clock but we would have advance notification of when we need to open."

He said he expects no change in the amount of boat traffic if the decision to close the bridge is made.

The possibility of having to deal with a closed bridge has caused concern for several Hancock County residents living and working along the river.

Roy Baxter, who serves as one of Hancock County's representatives to the Pearl River Basin Development District, said, "I feel that if the railroad has possible plans of closing the bridge on the East Pearl to large boat traffic that normally requires opening the draw bridge for any length of time, a public hearing on the matter should be held in Hancock County."

He said the development at the county's industrial park at Port Blenville could be adversely affected if the time the bridge is opened to large vessels is limited.

"Being a native of the Pearl River and living at both Logtown and Pearlinton all my life, I know many families who depend on the use of the East Pearl for their livelihood," said Baxter, who owns a private marina at Pearlinton.

"With the forecasted future growth of Hancock County, the limited openings of the bridge to water traffic could possibly cause the loss of some future jobs," he added.

W.L. Hodgins, a shrimp who uses the river, said about eight or 10 shrimp boats and eight oyster boats could be immediately affected if the bridge is closed during the night.

He added that a large number of boats that come over from Louisiana to sell their catches in Hancock County would also be affected.

The shrimp said that 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. might be better hours for closing, at least as far as fishermen are concerned, since most go out much earlier.

"It could cause a lot of problems for us and we need to start a petition or something protesting closing the bridge. We need to be able to get up and down the river," Hodgins said.

L.J. Breaux, also a member of the Pearl River Basin Development District, said, "We were concerned if I don't know whether closing the bridge at night would affect development because there is not a lot of that type of traffic in the area."

James DeBlanc, director of the Hancock County Port and Harbor Authority, said he could not comment on possible impact for the industrial park Saturday.

He said waterway traffic falls under the jurisdiction of one of the park's contractors, Hancock Terminal Company.

DeBlanc said whether or not the park is affected if the proposed closing is carried out would depend on the amount of industrial night traffic along the river.

Pass man fined $1,750 for illegal oystering

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Robert E. Thomas of 506 East North St. Pass Christian was recently fined $1,750 for oyster dredging violations by Justice Court Judge Horatio Frierson.

Bureau of Marine Resources Officer Stanley Hamilton said the fine was levied Nov. 28 in connection with three charges against Thomas.

The charges included dredging oysters in Mississippi with the season closed, dredging oysters in Mississippi with two dredges and oystering in Mississippi without a state oyster license.

Hamilton also said that, except for the Waveland tonging reef, most oyster reefs are still closed under the authority of the Mississippi State Department of Health. They are closed due to polluted waters caused by recent hurricanes.

Also Tuesday night, Hancock County John Ladner, captain of the oyster boat Elvivo, was absolved of three charges including dredging oysters on a closed reef, operation two dredges in Mississippi and operating an oversized dredge.

After three hours of testimony, Judge Frierson found Ladner not guilty of all charges.

Assertive Discipline program successful

The new Assertive Discipline program at Bay Senior High has been implemented with few problems and with great success.

According to Billy Rhodes, the assistant principal at Bay High, the discipline program is succeeding in reaching its main objective of reducing the amount of time the classroom teacher spends dealing with behavioral problems, allowing more time for teaching and learning.

Rhodes credits the smooth implementation of the program to the teachers themselves.

"They accepted the program and have worked very hard to make it work," he said. "The English department, especially, deserves special recognition for the part they played in the introduction of the program to the students."

"Each teacher set aside one day of classes to teach the assertive discipline to the students. The students were then tested on the information given to them by the English teachers," he said.

Rhodes also indicated that, for the most part, the students have accepted the program.

"They understand the consequences for choosing to break the rules," he added.

To further support the success of the program, Rhodes said that for the 45 days of school since the program has been implemented, only 83 students have been referred to the office from classrooms.

This is an average of 1.8 students per day. Of the 83 students referred to the office for behavioral problems in the classroom, only 20 of those students were placed in the In-School Suspension Program.

There were an additional 61 students referred to the office for such things as fighting, smoking on campus, truancy and infractions occurring on the common areas of the campus.

This is an average of 1.5 students per day.

"With a total enrollment of 635 students, these statistics are a good indication that the assertive discipline is working," Rhodes said. There is a continuous effort to improve the program even further.

Faculty and administration agree that consistency is the key to the continued success of this program.

"One of the best ways to improve discipline is by positive reinforcement. To many students, a little positive encouragement for improved behavior produces greater results than repeated negative treatment," Rhodes stated.

He also said that the teachers at Bay High are making a good effort to emphasize positive reinforcement toward the students.

The Student Council at Bay High has appointed a committee to suggest ideas for positively rewarding those students who consistently comply with the rules, feeling that these students should definitely be recognized for their good behavior.

Houseboat recovered after theft, chase

BY DENA BISNETTE

A stolen 35-foot houseboat was recovered and two suspects arrested Saturday morning after the vessel went aground near the mouth of the Jourdan River.

According to Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson, the two people arrested were Michael D. O'Neal of 166 Chartres, Bay St. Louis, and Ray L. Miller of Whitney Street, Shoreline Park.

Both were charged with grand larceny but may face additional charges because about $3,500 to $4,000 in damage has been found aboard the boat, the Southern Comfort.

Bond has been set at $50,000 each on the grand larceny charges.

Peterson said the early morning theft of the boat from the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club was reported by the boat's owner, Howard Adams.

"It appears that the two suspects grounded the boat at several locations and apparently tried to elude officers in the fog," the sheriff said.

He said officers Jim Odom and Matt Karl apprehended O'Neal and Miller after the boat became stuck in mud.

They were assisted by the Bay St. Louis Police Department and Bureau of Marine Resources.

The theft is still under investigation.

Body found by hunters remains unidentified

BY DENA BISNETTE

A young woman whose skeletal remains were found near Pearlinton this week remains unidentified but authorities now have a description of her.

The remains were found by hunters in a wooded area off Whipple Road near Pearlinton Wednesday morning.

The body was taken to Jackson to the Mississippi Crime Laboratory by Hancock County Coroner Harold Stiglet Thursday.

Stiglet said Friday afternoon that State Medical Examiner Thomas Bennett has not yet determined the cause of the woman's death but has compiled a description from the remains.

The body is apparently that of a 25-year-old white woman about five feet, five inches tall and weighing 105 to 110 pounds.

She had long brown hair, a long nose and bad teeth and had had no children.

The woman was apparently wearing a flowery blouse and black western-type boots with high heels. She had been dead four to eight weeks, Stiglet said.

He added that Bennett plans further examination of the body within the next few days in order to determine cause of death.

Anyone who may have information concerning the woman's identity is asked to contact the Hancock County Sheriff's Department at 467-5101.

Contract awarded for Keesler radar

A contract for $34.6 million has been awarded for radar control unit operations at Keesler Air Force Base at Biloxi, according to Senator Thad Cochran.

Cochran, a member of the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee on Defense, said the Pentagon has awarded the contract to the ITT Corporation of Van Nuys, Calif., for the radar project involving Keesler AFB.

The Air Force said the work involved modification kits to sustain the operational use of portable radar landing control units at the Gulf Coast installation's central radar facility.

The Air Force said about 17 percent of the contract would be performed at Keesler AFB, with the remainder at the ITT facilities in Van Nuys.

Fire equipment funds available

The Mississippi Forestry Commission expects to have approximately $50,000 in Federal funds available for FY '86 for small matching grants to rural communities to assist them in obtaining needed firefighting equipment, according to a recent announcement by State Forester Robert S. Moss.

The grants will be issued under the Rural Community Fire Protection Program (RCFP) as authorized under PL 95-113. Grants to approved applicants are limited to a maximum of $2,000 per community.

"Communities or fire departments interested in securing one of the RCFP grants would be well advised to take prompt action in this regard," says Curt Fulgham, Fire Control Forester for the Commission.

Rural communities of under 10,000 population are eligible for the funds. In the event the expected Federal funds are not received by the Forestry Commission, all applicants will be notified as soon as possible.

Application forms may be secured from Curt Fulgham, Fire Control Forester, Suite 300, 301 Building, Jackson, MS 39201, or from Commission District Offices at Tupelo, Philadelphia, Bay Springs, Wiggins, Brookhaven, Rolling Fork and Elliott. Completed applications must be returned to Fulgham by 5:00 p.m., January 6, 1986.

USM receives award

The University of Southern Mississippi Tuesday received a nationally prestigious commendation for implementing an innovative adult services program.

The Adult Retention Mentor (ARM) Program, an extension of USM's Adult Services Office, received the commendation during the 25th annual meeting of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU).

Dr. Aubrey K. Lucas, USM president, also concluded a one-year term as AASCU chairman during the Florida meeting. He was succeeded by Ronald Williams, president of Northeastern Illinois University in Chicago.

"The University of Southern Mississippi's Adult Retention Mentor Program offers a fine model for replication by other colleges and universities with rapidly increasing enrollments," AASCU officials said in presenting the commendation.

USM's mentor program was launched early this year to help ease the transition of adults entering university life. It helps adult students continue their education while maintaining responsibilities to family, job and community.

Margie Cox, USM adult services coordinator, noted recent studies show college campuses are losing a large number of adult students who are unable to readjust to the classroom environment. The ARM program is a project of the USM Career Development Center, directed by Dr. Charlotte Tullos.

Through ARM, adult students with sophomore standing or above, who have successfully made the transition into academic life, are trained to provide ongoing personal contact, support and resource referrals to incoming adult students.

Towson State University of Towson, Md., received the AASCU's G. Theodore Mitau Award for Innovation and Change in Higher Education. The award is presented annually to a state college or university that has demonstrated a strong commitment to academic improvements, innovation and educational excellence. Seventy-nine schools competed for the award and commendations.

Pass Christmas celebration to include open house, Santa

BY DENA BISNETTE

A merchants' open house, decorated boats and the arrival of Santa Claus will be among the activities included in "Christmas at the Pass: a Holiday Celebration" Thursday.

The Christmas activities, sponsored by the City of Pass Christian and the Harbor Village Merchants Association, will begin at 4 p.m. and continue until 9 p.m.

Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive by helicopter, weather permitting, for a 5:30 p.m. tree-lighting ceremony at City Park on Scenic Drive between Davis Avenue and Market Street.

Cynthia Landry and Tom Bagwell of WLOX TV-13 will serve as masters of ceremonies for the event.

Musical entertainment at the park will include the Long Beach Choir, Trinity Episcopal Church Choir, St. Paul's Children's Choir and the Pass Christian High School Band.

In addition, various bands and groups of carolers will provide entertainment along Scenic Drive.

After the tree-lighting ceremony, Santa Claus will move to the St. Paul's Church gymnasium and will be available for photographs with children, according to Publicity Chairman Paige Reed.

At St. Paul's, the Catholic Youth Organization will provide a story hour and supervised play for children. Donations for the service will benefit the CYO.

In addition, there will be an exhibit of children's art in the Hancock Bank Annex on Scenic Drive. The bank will also serve as a giftwrapping and United Parcel Service center for holiday shoppers.

About 15 downtown merchants have been scheduled to participate in the open house, and two restaurants, Blue Rose and Scenic Street Cafe, will remain open during the event, Reed said.

She said boats in Pass Christian Harbor will be decorated with lights for the event. The public is invited to visit the harbor to view the boats.

The merchants association will sponsor prizes for the best decorated home, business and boat as well as drawings for door prizes. Anyone wishing to register for a prize may do so at any of the businesses participating in the open house.

MUSCLE SPASMS

Violent, involuntary contractions of a muscle or group of muscles initiate the painful condition of muscle spasms. They can occur in almost any muscle of the body. Most frequently they occur in the back, neck, stomach or bladder. Even the involuntary twitching of the eye lids, or facial muscles is associated with muscle spasms. The single or riddle of their cause has been solved. As it has been shown that the majority of all muscle spasms are caused by nerve root pressure, even though there can be other aggravating factors, injections, muscle relaxants and tracers are measures which give temporary relief but contribute little to the correction of the basic cause of nerve pressure. A Chiropractic examination will get at the truth of the matter and application of spinal adjustments, if necessary, will permit the correction of the majority of these conditions. Prompt attention in this matter usually brings prompt results.

Dec. 1-5 proclaimed Home Health Week

The week of December 1-7 has been proclaimed National Home Health Care Week.

Local officials signing the proclamation include the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, Bay St. Louis Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr. and Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr.

As part of an observance of Home Health Week, representatives from South Mississippi Home Health will check blood pressures at the Hancock County Senior Citizens Center Wednesday.

According to Sondra Johnson, a nurse and office manager for South Mississippi Home Health Care, the program is designed to keep families together during recovery from an illness or injury.

Home Health provides a wide range of health and supportive services in the home and has been covered by Medicare and Medicaid since 1967. In addition, a growing number of private insurers now cover the service.

Johnson said home care services tend to stimulate faster and fuller recoveries than comparable services in hospitals or other institutions.

Anyone who is under the care of a physician, confined to home due to illness or injury and requiring intermittent skilled care may be eligible for home health services.

More information is available from South Mississippi Home Health at 467-0124.

Quotables by Cuevas

Our longtime friend Carl Smith celebrated his 99th birthday on Tuesday of last week.

A big celebration was held by the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club on Wednesday marking Mr. Carl's birthday.

Mr. Carl has lived in Bay St. Louis for many years and is still a regular at Rotary meetings as well as the Main Street United Methodist Church.

There are not too many people around in the United States who can claim to have been born in a sod house like Mr. Carl.

He has lived to see so many things developed which we today take for granted.

We would like to again say Happy Birthday, Mr. Carl and wish you many more.

Soccer is a growing sport in Hancock County with more and more boys and girls becoming involved in the sport.

We received a telephone call from Lt. Bill Popovich, a coach for a boys' team ages 12 and 13, who need an assistant coach.

No experience is necessary, and we are told it is easy to learn the rules of soccer.

If you are interested, you can reach Lt. Popovich at 688-5690.

By the way, the coach also reports he could use a few more players aged 12 or 13, or even an 11-year-old who will be 12 in a couple of months.

This is just a reminder about Santa Claus coming to town this afternoon at 4 p.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

The annual event is sponsored by the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

The event will also feature the lighting of the Christmas Tree on the courthouse grounds by Hancock and Bay-Waveland officials.

We know all youngsters want to give Santa their special requests so he can try and have them ready by Christmas.

Several hunting seasons are now open and hunting areas are really limited in Hancock County.

Special permits are required to hunt on much of the land owned by International Paper Company and there are also many acres of land which are posted by the owners.

Of course no guns are allowed within the city limits of Bay St. Louis and Waveland in addition to Diamondhead.

Bird Sanctuaries have been established places such as McLeod Park and Shoreline Park.

This means no hunting whatsoever, but we have been getting reports of some violations.

Some are of children have BB and pellet guns. These are not to be used in the restricted areas.

Persons hunting should be aware of the lands where restrictions are placed and observe them.

Violators usually end up paying stiff penalties.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's Christmas Crafts sale is scheduled for this afternoon from 1 to 5 p.m. on Boardman Avenue.

We understand many craftsmen will be displaying a range of goods ideas for Christmas gifts and decorating.

This may help you get a jump on Christmas shopping and also help our Little Theatre.

News From The Governor's Office

Gov. Bill Allain

During the 1984 Christmas season, the Governor's Office sponsored a Christmas giving campaign designed to provide a yuletide celebration for those Mississippians who are less fortunate than most of us. The response you gave this program was overwhelming, and, as a result, hundreds of Mississippians had a Christmas that they would not have otherwise had.

This year, we are once again sponsoring the "Love One Another" campaign.

In the next few weeks, my office will be calling on state agencies, businesses, city government, and county government to join with us again this year in sponsoring a Christmas celebration for someone in your communities.

We are asking you to begin right now in contacting your charitable organizations in your hometown. They can provide you with names of families who need food, clothing or toys. Or your organization or group can collect money to contribute to specific charities.

The projects involved in last year's "Love One Another" campaign, and that will be included in this year's program, are adopt-a-family; food drives; and fundraising. The Governor's Office adopted two families in the Hinds County area and provided them with food, clothing and toys for Christmas.

Throughout the state, the Salvation Army and Catholic Charities literally were besieged with requests for families to adopt during Christmas. This year, we are asking Mississippians to respond in an even greater number.

With the people of this state who are enjoying prosperous times helping those who are not, we can all work together to move Mississippi ahead and make life comfortable for everyone in our state.

MISSISSIPPI CONSUMER REPORT

A Service of the Consumer Protection Division Of The Office Of
Edwin Lloyd Pittman, Attorney General

COUNTERFEIT TOYS

Recently a consumer complaint was registered with the Attorney General's Office of Consumer Protection, against a merchant who was selling "counterfeit" Cabbage Patch Kids dolls. The purchaser said she knew something was wrong when the doll's name was not visible from the outside of the box.

According to Jane Kelly, Washington, D.C., every year millions of dollars worth of "counterfeit" toys are sneaked through the United States borders.

While these copycat versions of popular items may look just like the "real thing," in many cases they are so badly constructed they pose a real hazard.

They may have sharp edges or toxic finishes or breakable or removable parts that can be swallowed by a young child.

The problem of counterfeiting popular toys has become so serious that last year the government enacted a "Trademark Counterfeiting Act," which provides stiff criminal penalties for counterfeiting or knowingly distributing such merchandise.

To help consumers, retailers, customs agents, and the FBI identify these fake goods, manufacturers of the genuine toys are preparing counterfeit-proof "signals" for both their packages and products. Until these signals are available to proper authorities, consumers can protect themselves when selecting toys by following these rules:

- 1) Be cautious if a well-known toy is being offered at an unusually low price.
- 2) Beware of toys that are sold at temporary outlets: parking lots, sidewalk stands, motel rooms, swap meets, or flea markets.
- 3) Inspect the toy carefully for shoddy workmanship, lack of instructions, or missing warranty. If your suspicions are aroused, take the merchandise back to the dealer; reputable retailers generally buy from known suppliers and stand behind the toys they sell.

Certain "Cabbage Patch Kids" dolls are produced and packaged under license by several manufacturers explicitly for distribution and sale in markets outside the U.S. While the appearance of the dolls

WELFARE FOR WALL STREET
By Dr. James C. Cobb

In an era when lower income Americans have to jump through all sorts of hoops in order to secure government assistance, large, profitable corporations continue to benefit from generous subsidies and tax incentives that are available with no strings attached.

The biggest case is Boeing Aircraft, which, according to a recent report by a group called Citizens for Tax Justice, has received $285 million in federal tax refunds since 1981 while piling up profits in excess of $2 billion.

Boeing, a pillar of the Fortune 500 and one of the showpieces of the American "free enterprise" system, is one of 40 large, profitable companies that reportedly managed to earn an aggregate profit of $10 billion in 1984 without paying a cent in federal income taxes.

The irony would be sufficient if the story ended here, but Boeing intends to continue its welfare ways in the Mississippi Delta where it is scheduled to open a repair facility in October.

Boeing will occupy an abandoned air base built initially by the government and refurbished with federal and local funds. Its employees will be trained by the State of Mississippi at a cost to the state of $557,000. The aggregate commitment of federal, state, and local funds to Boeing may run as high as $18 million.

What is it about Boeing that inspires such public generosity? Certainly its corporate image is not that of a malnourished ragamuffin.

On the contrary, it is Boeing's financial strength, its ability to create jobs, that make it such an appealing welfare applicant.

Boeing promises to provide at least 645 jobs in an area with an unemployment rate of 13.5 percent where 18 percent of the families, like Boeing, receive some form of public assistance.

Sixty percent of Boeing's workers, however, will receive a starting wage approximately 50 cents an hour below the state average of $3 an hour below what Boeing pays its beginning employees at its Wichita, Kansas facility.

Boeing's Greenville work force will be non-union, but union officials, fearing that Boeing may be anticipating other facilities, are vowing to organize the workers in Greenville.

Should they succeed, what will Boeing do?

Will it ever expand its Greenville operation or will it begin the search for another community and state ready to supplement the federal government's generosity to large corporations?

AT&T, another beneficiary of big-time tax breaks (reportedly $242 million in refunds on 1984 profits of 1.9 billion) has recently announced economy measures that will put 24,000 working Americans in the unemployment line and perhaps even on the welfare rolls. Some observers predict that many of these jobs may be exported to cheap labor markets in the Third World.

The idea that corporate subsidies and tax incentives will "trickle down" by creating jobs and spurring economic growth may have some validity.

Perhaps by putting corporations on welfare we can keep individuals off. We will never know, however, until we require as much accountability from generously subsidized corporations as we do from individual food stamp recipients.

Senator says cost of government too high

Senator Irb Benjamin of Rienzi believes that the cost of running state government is too high and the first place he wants to start cutting is in the Legislature.

Benjamin, who represents Alcorn and Tishomingo counties, has prepared two alternative pieces of legislation for introduction in the 1988 Session of the Legislature which would reduce the number of members in the Legislature.

"Shortfalls in state revenue is an indicator that the cost of state government has increased at a faster rate than the ability of the private sector to pay for it. Therefore, the time has come that we must make cuts in the only place left which is personnel. I believe the first place to start is with the Legislature," Benjamin said.

Benjamin's proposal calls for 40 Senators rather than the present 52 and 80 Representatives as opposed to 122 currently. His plan would go into effect after the redistricting in 1990.

Should his proposal pass, it must be approved by the federal Justice Department under the provisions of the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

"I feel that we would be able to operate effectively and more efficiently with a total of 120 in the Legislature rather than the present 174. The cost savings would be substantial in just the fewer salaries and expenses which would have to be paid," Benjamin said.

"I believe that the reduced number could do just as good a job of representing the people's wishes. And with a smaller number in each house, there would be even more opportunity for each legislator to get involved in committee work and debate."

Benjamin pointed out that 38 states have Legislatures with fewer members than Mississippi's, and California, as large as it is, operates with 40 in the Senate and 80 in the House.

Realizing that his proposal may be controversial among his colleagues, Benjamin has filed two plans of action. One is a bill which would amend present law.

The other is a resolution calling for the people of the state to vote on an amendment to the Constitution which would set the number of Legislators at 40 Senators and 80 Representatives.

In order for this Constitutional amendment to be put on the ballot in the November 1988 general election, the resolution calling for the election must be passed by two-thirds of the Senate and the House.

"It is my hope that the Senate would address the reduction in the size of the Senate and leave the reduction of the House to the Representatives," Benjamin said.

'Innocent' drugs can lead to highway deaths

"Innocent" drugs, as well as those generally regarded as dangerous, are contributing to the estimated 420 deaths per year due to drunk and drugged driving on Mississippi highways, according to the Department of Criminal Justice Planning (DCJP), Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs.

Criminal Justice Planning studies indicate that more than half of Mississippi's highway deaths are related to drunk and drugged driving.

"Thousands of Mississippians probably take drugs every day, and it's likely that most of these individuals are unaware that many of these substances affect their driving skills," said Roy Thigpen, DCJP director.

"Along with alcohol, tranquilizers and a variety of other drugs, even some over-the-counter medicines, can contribute to driving that leads to death or serious injury.

"Taking more than one drug at a time," Thigpen said, "is particularly dangerous because each one can add to the impact of the other. When alcohol is involved, it can increase the sedative effects of tranquilizers and barbiturates.

A popular fallacy is that caffeine, a stimulant in coffee and tea, can make a drunk driver sober. Studies have shown that caffeine does not improve an inebriated person's driving."

He noted that "marijuana, regarded by some as an innocent drug, is mind-altering. It affects a wide range of skills needed for safe driving.

Reflexes are slowed, causing drivers difficulty in responding to sudden, unexpected dangers. Marijuana also affects a driver's ability to 'track' (staying in lane) through curves, to brake quickly and to maintain the proper speed and the distance between vehicles. Research indicates that normal levels of driving performance are not regained for at least four hours after smoking a single marijuana cigarette.

"LSD, PCP and other illegal hallucinogens distort judgment, cause confusion and panic and can lead to severe mental problems producing strange and violent behavior," Thigpen said. "Obviously, these drugs can severely impair driving ability."

He noted that driving requires thought, motor skills, common sense and a concern for the safety of everyone on the road. "Mixing drugs with driving can be a lethal combination. If you're not sure about the side effects of the seemingly innocent drugs you're taking or the result of taking more than one drug at a time, consult a physician before you drive."

Medical group lists tips for coping with common cold

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

Fall is here and with it, the season for the sniffles and sneezing of the common cold. While they are certainly not life-threatening, these pesky upper respiratory infections can be very discomforting, and can make you feel miserable.

Colds are caused by viruses, and over 100 viral agents are responsible for 90 percent of the symptoms of fever, aching, nasal congestion, and raw and scratchy throats.

Diseases caused by viruses are self-limiting: that is, they generally run their course regardless of what medications you take. Viruses do not respond to costly antibiotics, which are used to fight bacterial diseases.

Some of the many cold remedies available without a prescription will relieve some of the familiar cold symptoms. But not a single one of these products will prevent, cure, or even shorten the course of the common cold. A cold usually lasts from one to two weeks.

The proper use of nonprescription medications can be effective in relieving cough, sinus congestion, runny nose and some of the other symptoms associated with colds, allergies or asthma. Patients should try to take only those products which contain ingredients to relieve their particular symptom.

Doctors remind patients that sore throat can be due to serious infection, which should not be treated by self-medication. Over-the-counter remedies should be used only to treat minor throat irritation, reminds the Mississippi State Medical Association. If the throat problem persists or gets worse, a physician's advice should be sought.

Though over-the-counter products will frequently alleviate symptoms, the best treatment for the common cold is still adequate rest, plenty of liquids (especially fruit juices and water), gargling with hot salt water for sore throats, and avoiding getting too chilled or too hot.

High fever, chills, earache and persistent cough indicate secondary infection and should alert the individual to see a physician.

Project Second Chance advisory council named

Gov. Bill Allain has appointed 29 Mississippians to a council that will make recommendations on Project Second Chance, a program to help released offenders return to society.

Members of the Project Second Chance Advisory Council include law enforcement and corrections officials, local elected officials, representatives of federal and state agencies, members of the clergy, industry representatives and private citizens. The council will develop goals and objectives for Project Second Chance, make recommendations on training programs for volunteers and determine guidelines for screening volunteers and offenders.

Project Second Chance was initiated by Allain to utilize volunteer efforts in helping former prisoners become constructive members of society, instead of returning to a life of crime. "Our aim is to organize a program that will give former inmates, who have paid their debts to society, a second chance," Allain said.

The governor designated the Department of Human Development, Governor's Office of Federal-State Programs, as the administering agency and appointed Linda Hart Whittington, a University of Southern Mississippi criminal justice graduate, as coordinator. Ms. Whittington said the needs of a former offender, which Project Second Chance will help to secure, include a job, a place to live and often counseling for the released offender and his family.

Allain appointed Ruth Campbell of Jackson, executive producer of public affairs for the Mississippi Authority for Educational Television, and the Rev. Elvin Sunde of Jackson, director of Catholic Charities, as co-chairmen of the advisory council.

Others named to the council were Arthur E. Brown III of Jackson, state director of ACTION, the federal agency for volunteer activities; the Rev. C. Bowen Burt of Senatobia, liaison to the United Methodist Church for prison fellowship; John Grubbs of Jackson, director of Community Services, Department of Corrections; Robert P. Hairston of Jackson, director, Mississippi Correctional Reform Association; Claude Hartness of Jackson, regional director, Mississippi Department of Public Welfare; Nadine Herndon of Meridian; Robert F. Hester of Hattiesburg, director of clinical services, Pine Belt Mental Health and Retardation Services; Allene Hickman of Philadelphia; and Jones County Sheriff H. M. Hooks of Laurel.

Also, Dr. Dorothy Idleburg of Jackson, acting director, Alcohol and Drug Studies Center, Jackson State University; Mrs. Ed Jackson of Cleveland; Joann Kaelin of Gloster; Billy King of Ocean Springs; Dr. Larry LeFlore of Hattiesburg, assistant professor, University of Southern Mississippi Department of Criminal Justice; Roy Long of Parchman, administrative assistant, State Parole Board; the Rev. John McBride of Jackson, president, Mississippi Jail and Prison Ministry Association; David McIntyre of Jackson, placement specialist, Mississippi Employment Security Commission; and Capt. Bill Mills of Hattiesburg, Forrest County Sheriff's Office.

Others are Byron Patton of Pascagoula, employment and placement representative, Ingalls Shipbuilding; Chaplain Ron Padgett of Parchman, director, State Penitentiary Chaplain's Department; Norman F. Pennington of Jackson, general manager, Borden Inc. Consumer Products Division; James L. Roberts Jr. of Jackson, commissioner, Mississippi Department of Public Safety; Willie Simmons of Parchman, director, Therapeutic Pre-Release Center; Edwin Snyder of Eupora, district attorney, Fifth Circuit Court District; Greenwood Police Chief James Stevens; Milton Williams of Jackson, director, New Hope Three-Quarter House; and Dr. Nanola Yazdani of Parchman, correctional psychologist, Regimented Inmate Discipline Program.

The advisory council will hold its first meeting Dec. 7 at the State Capitol.

Consumer Update.....

On credit card balances...

The average individual outstanding balance on Visa and Mastercard was $815. Visa and Mastercard together account for most credit card transactions. At the end of 1984, the outstanding balance on these cards was $53.4 billion. (Source: Wall Street Journal, October 27, 1985)

On low annual fees - high interest rates...

Several new credit cards are available to consumers this fall. The new cards can be used to purchase a wide variety of goods and services and they have some interesting features. Some of the cards (Sears & Roebuck's new Discover and Shell Oil's Signature cards, for example) will not charge annual fees. This could be a break for consumers who are now paying $25 to $65 annually for established cards. Competition from the new cards could bring about a drop in these fees. Some of the new cards will give rebates up to one percent holders' total annual purchases and cash refunds to customers who use the card to charge hotel and motel reservations.

All the new cards will be interest rates that range from 19 to 22 percent. While this is a high rate of interest, it is in line with the rates being charged for the established cards.

The expected drop in annual fees may not last long while the high rates of interest will likely continue. Analysts say the companies cannot make money unless they charge fees and keep interest rates high. (Source: USA Today, September 9, 1985)

On credit card interest rates...

Despite overall recent drops in interest rates, credit card suppliers still charge 18 to 21 percent annually on unpaid balances. The average credit card interest charge is 18.7 percent.

Some members of Congress are wanting to know why interest rates are so high and may try to limit them. Proposed legislation would set a national interest rate ceiling on credit accounts. Hearings were scheduled to begin in the House at the end of October.

Banks feel the rates are necessarily higher on credit card accounts because the cards are a complicated service with unique handling and collection costs. (Source: Wall Street Journal, October 27, 1985)

Mandatory seminar for Justice Court clerks

A mandatory education and training seminar for justice court clerks will be held Dec. 4-6 at the Sheraton-Regency Hotel in Jackson.

The program is sponsored by the Mississippi Judicial College, a division of the Court Education Program of the University of Mississippi School of Law. It is part of the mandatory training prescribed by Mississippi law for clerks of the justice system.

Keynote speaker will be James L. Roberts, Mississippi Commissioner of Public Safety. Other program participants will include Mississippi Sen. Martin T. Smith; State Rep. W. Terrell Stubbs; Field Auditor Charles Robinette; Mrs. Helen Waltman, training coordinator for Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Mississippi Inc.; and representatives of the Attorney General's office and the Mississippi Commission on Judicial Performance.

Registration will be from 3-5 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 4, followed by a reception. Late registration will be 8-8:45 a.m. on Thursday, followed by the keynote address.

Coordinator Robert D. Church of the Mississippi Judicial College said a highlight of the program will be a two-hour question and answer session on questions previously submitted by justice clerks from across the state.

FACTS AND FALLACIES ABOUT FITNESS

Everyone can benefit from some form of exercise.

An isolated case may be found where exercise may be contradicted, but for the vast majority, exercise is a positive force for a fuller, more enjoyable life. Man was designed to move.

You should have a medical examination before beginning an exercise program.

Any sudden increase in physical activity could be quite a shock to your system. It's important to know something of your present condition and your exercise tolerance. Your examination can help determine what you can do, how you can do it, and how fast and how long you can do it.

Exercise amounts should be increased as the program progresses.

The essential principles of sound conditioning are consistency and progression. Regardless of when you start, a gradual increase in activity, applied regularly, will result in progress. However, this is not true forever. As you reach a high level of fitness, additional training gives diminishing returns. But don't use this as an excuse to set your level so low you do little to reach it!

Moderate, sustained activities are better than heavy, forceful exercise.

In general, the need to increase stamina is greater than the need for more strength or explosive power. The ability to take in, transport, and use oxygen is the main concern in developing fitness.

If your breath doesn't return to normal within 10 minutes after you exercise, you've done too much.

The exercise does not have to be strenuous to be good for you. In fact, if it's too difficult, it can be harmful.

A good rule of thumb is that your breathing should return to normal within 10 minutes. Other guidelines are that 10 minutes after you finish you shouldn't feel your heart pounding in your chest. You shouldn't be "popped out." You should experience a "come-back" sensation. Too much exercise may make sleeping difficult and make you feel tired the next day.

Studies seem to indicate that lack of physical activity is more often the cause of overweight than overeating.

Several age levels have been studied—teenage, adult, and elderly. In each instance the findings showed obese people did not eat any more calories than normal-weighted people their same age, but they were much less active. Yet many in their attempt to lose excess fat have concentrated on counting calories but have neglected the role of exercise. You can lose weight with only moderate changes in diet and exercise habits.

A standard exercise program will work for most people.

It is true that some types of exercise are better all-around conditioners, but no one exercise program is for everyone. Each individual must determine where he is before selecting an exercise program. Fitness requires the greatest development of strength, muscular endurance, and stamina. Since a person's lifestyle may put him at different levels in each of these areas, the program should be designed to meet his own needs.

The tougher the program, the better.

Working relatively hard may not be the best approach. The best motto is "Train, not strain." A person out of shape often attempts too much too soon and simply ends up very sore and tired. Then he decides against exercise. The key to improving fitness is "over-load." That means just slightly more than normal, not a seven-fold increase.

A good program takes no more than ten minutes a day.

There is no quick, easy way to fitness if real fitness gains are what you want. Fifteen to 20 minutes of calisthenics and the same length of time devoted to aerobic activity (one which increases stamina) is recommended as a minimum three-day-a-week program. For greatest fitness you should increase the aerobic activities to 30 minutes a day. With advance in fitness, you should try for four and then five days a week. There is little need for more. Your body profits from rest as well.

Once you reach a satisfactory fitness level, you can keep it with only occasional workouts.

If you falter on an exercise program, or do not maintain consistency, you will soon lose anything you have gained. When you reach your desired level, you can drop the progression aspect. But you should hold a steady level, and you must maintain consistency. Hopefully, when you get in shape, exercise will have become a regular part of your lifestyle and continuing will be no problem.

You should never drink water while you are exercising.

The body cells depend on circulation to get rid of their waste products. When you become dehydrated, the fluids that bathe the cells are reduced. When that happens, your muscles can't keep up the work they are doing, and your heart receives an added strain. The cells can't function properly until the fluid is restored. If you feel you're losing water, replace it immediately. If you're exercising first thing in the morning, drink a glass of water before you start.

Women who train or exercise regularly lose their femininity.

Actually, women who exercise become more feminine. They become more lithe. They move with greater strength. They develop the athlete's sense of relaxation.

Fad diets are o.k. for some.

There are serious medical objections to all fad diets. Most result in losing too much too fast and are based on nutritionally unsound diets. Losses many times are water and lean weight as well as fat and are temporary. Sensible, safe, and permanent weight control is based on a permanent change in lifestyle. Moderate reductions in the amount of food intake and moderate increases in energy output are the answer for most.

Exercise increases the appetite and thus will increase rather than decrease weight.

It is true that a lean person in good condition may eat more after increased activity, but the exercise will burn up the extra calories. An obese person will have an appetite increase only when he exercises to excess. Because he has large stores of fat, his appetite is not stimulated by moderate exercise.

A great increase in physical activity is necessary to use up enough calories to affect weight control materially.

Tables showing energy expended in a given time in a given activity are misleading. You don't simply use calories in exercise. The effects of exercise continue after the actual time you are exercising. Energy expended is also affected by body weight. In activities that you have to move your own weight, the heavier individual burns more calories. Walking an extra mile per day will result in a loss of 10 pounds in a year with no change in dietary habits.

Retired public employees to meet to explain administration and operation procedures, changes in the state retirement laws, and to answer questions.

George Bullard and W.L. Rigby of Gulfport, and Charles Lippian, former long-term legislator of Pascagoula, are overall chairmen for the Gulfport meeting.

Telephone company lists new numbers

South Central Bell customers in Mississippi have a new set of numbers to call for service, according to District Manager Don Roberts.

And to make things simple, every number for service starts with the same numbers—"1-577," he said.

"To make it simpler still, the numbers are uniform throughout South Central Bell's five states," he added.

For residence customers, the toll-free numbers are: 1-557-6500 for changes in service; 1-557-6600 for questions about bills or other matters, and 1-557-6100 for repair service.

For business customers, the numbers are 1-557-6000 for changes in service; 1-557-6300 for questions about bills or other matters, and 1-557-6123 for repair service.

Roberts said that in addition to making the numbers uniform, the changes are part of a plan that will enable South Central Bell to reduce the long distance charges it pays on service calls that are routed to different South Central Bell calling zones.

"Even though these calls are free to our customers, they cost South Central Bell. We are trying to reduce those costs," said Roberts.

Area football players chosen for Burger King All Star team

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Four Hancock County area football players were recently chosen for the 1985 Burger King All Star team.

Charles Burton of Hancock North Central, Winston Ausmer of Pass Christian High, Stace McRaney and Trace McRaney, both of Bay Senior High were among the 22 players chosen for the team from Gulf Coast 1A-5A high schools.

Burton, a defensive back, was the only junior chosen for the All Star team.

HNC Coach Irvin Favre said he was very proud that Burton was getting the recognition he deserved.

During this past season, Burton was the leading rusher for the Hawks and one of the top five defensive players.

Offensively, Burton rushed for 970 yards and scored 60 points. As a defensive back, he had 41 individual tackles and 27 assists. He also broke up six passes, recovered two fumbles and intercepted four passes.

"Charles had an outstanding year for us on offense and defense and we are looking forward to him bringing a lot of excitement to Hawk games next year," Favre added.

Burton was chosen as a defensive back on the All Star team.

Also selected as a defensive back was Ausmer, who was previously picked as a member of the Deep South All-Conference team.

Ausmer led the Pass Pirates in rushing with 619 yards and six touchdowns. He was honored during the season as the Gulfport Optimists Club's Player of the Week.

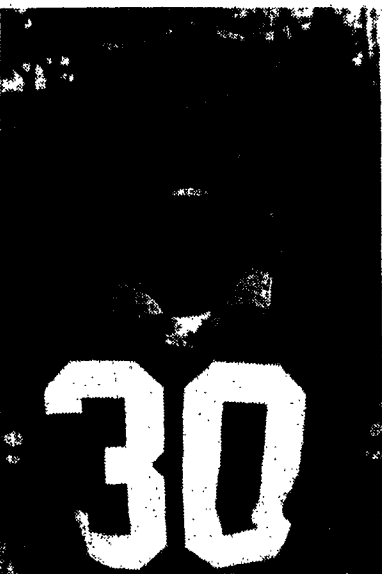

All Star kicker was Stace McRaney. A senior, he scored 27 points for the Tigers including field goals and extra point kicks.

Trace McRaney was selected for the All Star defensive team. During the 1985 season he had 38 individual tackles and 117 assisted tackles. He also recovered four fumbles and intercepted one pass.

Both McRaneys were also chosen for the Deep South All-Conference team. Trace was named Most Valuable Defensive Linesman.

Bay Senior High Head Football Coach Cleveland Williams was also chosen as the 3A division coach of the year. He was also chosen Coach of the Year in the Deep South Conference.

Williams and members of the All Star team will be honored at a banquet Wednesday, Dec. 11 at the Biloxi Hilton at 8 p.m.

Buyer beware when purchasing foliage plants

Every year the Mississippi Department of Agriculture and Commerce receives complaints from individuals who have purchased foliage plants at bargain prices. The bargain plants often turn to disappointment, since they usually are not acclimated to the Mississippi climate.

Any plant put in a house, to a certain extent, is placed in an unfavorable environment. Heaters in the winter and air conditioners in the summer can cause havoc with the plants.

Acclimation is done by the grower to condition the plants to the environment they will be subjected. This conditioning deals with the plant's light, water, fertility and temperature requirements. This helps the plant avoid shock when taken into the home.

The department's Division of Plant Industry at Mississippi State University employs inspectors to check commercial plants for insects, diseases and proper certificates, according to Jack Coley, director of the division. Coley emphasizes that it is impossible to determine by inspection if a foliage plant has been acclimated.

This is why it is necessary to purchase plants from a reputable dealer. Some plants are purchased from temporary dealers.

Usually within two to four weeks after purchase, complaints are received regarding defoliation or death of the plant. When a person who sells plants on the roadside has come and gone, there is very little or no recourse.

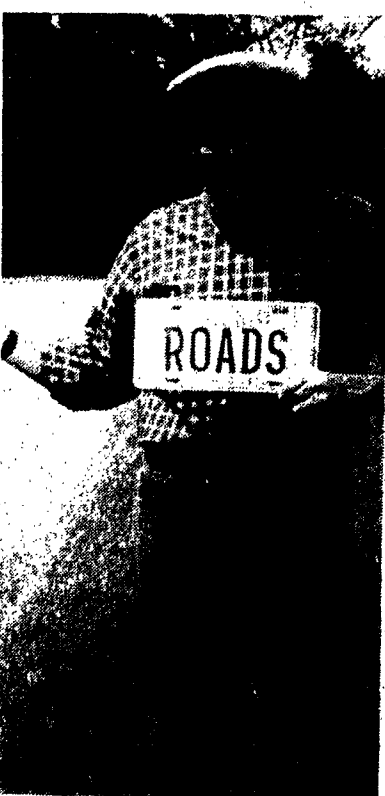

Coley strongly suggests that plant purchases be made from established dealers. These nurserymen have the specific knowledge of plant culture requirements.

Nurserymen can advise one upon what plants will grow better and adapt to drafts and extreme temperature changes. They also can advise the purchaser on where to place plants in the home to meet light requirements.

The division inspects plants under commercial shipments that are offered for sale. Inspection helps determine if the plants have injurious insects or plant diseases, which can spread to other plants in the home.

Commercial resale shipments also must be accompanied with a valid certificate of nursery inspection from the state of origin.

Those who buy plants from a reputable dealer usually can be assured of healthy products and good purchases.

Johnny Vaught legacy on display at Ole Miss

The legendary Johnny Vaught, University of Mississippi head football coach from 1947 to '70, will be featured in the John Davis Library Dec. 1-Jan. 30 in a lobby exhibit that traces one of the finest records in college football history.

Vaught's career will be chronicled in photographs and other memorabilia from a 26-year career that included six Southeastern Conference championships, 18 bowl games, nine teams with top ten ranking, three undefeated teams and one undefeated, untied squad.

Vaught is 12th on the all-time Division I-A listings for most victories with 190.

The former Texas Christian University All-American was honored with a brunch in Jackson Saturday, Nov. 23, that officially kicked off the John H. Vaught Scholarship Fund. He was presented a bust sculpted by Dr. Ron Bartlett, professor of modern languages at Ole Miss.

The event was organized by Eagle Day of Jackson, a former all-conference quarterback for Ole Miss, and attended by such Rebel football luminaries as Charlie Conerly, Jake Gibbs, Glynn Griffing, Jimmy Lear and Crawford Mims.

The library exhibit is packed with memories of the Rebel's greatest football moments. It was designed and produced by Wil Collins of the library exhibits staff.

For more information about the Vaught Scholarship Fund, please write or call The University of Mississippi Foundation, Box 249, University of Mississippi, University, MS 38677, telephone (601) 232-5944.

County Agent's Notes

By Lee Taylor

CONTROL MICE IN THE HOME

Now that the cooler weather is here, most of us like to linger indoors for comfort. Mice and other rodents like warmer temperatures, too, and may hibernate with you if you don't take a few precautions.

Mice move in a home from grassy fields or cultivated grain crop fields. Since winter marks the harvest of such crops, mice may move indoors for a ready supply of food and water.

Once mice have moved into a home, they are difficult to get rid of and will probably multiply, compounding the problem.

The best form of control is prevention. Stop mice from entering your home by blocking any possible entry points. Nail a piece of tin over holes in your home. Cover windows and other openings with a screen. Plug or cement around pipes or wires leading to your home.

Even very small openings should be covered since mice can squeeze into small spaces.

If mice are found in your home, begin a control program to make your home rodent-free.

Use traps along walls and in cabinets or closets. Since mice move along the wall, set traps so the trigger is nearest the wall - right in their path.

Droppings should indicate where mice have fed. This is a good place to set a trap using a bait such as cheese, raisins, peanut butter, bacon rind or jelly beans.

The house has a small range of a few feet to 25 feet. This is important to know when deciding where to place traps or poison bait.

To make your traps more effective, limit the usual food source. Do not leave food scraps around and keep all food and stored products in tight containers or closed cupboards. Remove garbage daily.

Be sure to place traps and poison baits where mice will find them, but not where children and pets are endangered.

Information about effective poison baits and other control methods for rodents in your home or farm buildings is available at the County Extension office.

LOWER SOYBEAN PRODUCTION COSTS

Farmers who intend to plant soybeans next year should use lime and fertilization practices this fall to lower production costs.

Take soil samples for testing as soon as possible after a field has been combined to determine amounts of nutrients needed for the next crop.

Proper amounts of fertilizer help produce maximum yields and can reduce the unit cost of production. Incorrect fertilizer rates may limit yields or waste money.

For best results, lime should be plowed into the soil this fall. Fertilizer can be applied now except on very sandy soils or where erosion is likely.

Webb-Ballard

Terri Lyn Ballard became the bride of Philip Douglas Webb in an afternoon ceremony October 5 in Jehovah's Witness Kingdom Hall in Gulfport. Brother Alphonso Booker officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Strong Sr. of Bay St. Louis. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Webb of Orange, Tex.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white chiffon and chantilly lace in a Victorian style with a high collar of schiffli embroidery edged with lace on a deep V-yoke of English net which was outlined with a flounce of chantilly lace, ribbon decorated, over a fitted bodice. Her full bishop sleeves had fitted cuffs at the wrist decorated with schiffli lace. Pearl decorated schiffli embroidery motifs were scattered across the full skirt which was bordered with rows of chantilly lace ruffles which encircled the cathedral train.

She wore a headpiece of lace and satin florets decorated with pearls which held a fingertip veil of illusion which was edged with satin ribbon and lace.

The bride carried a cascade of silk catleya orchids, white cymbidium orchids, white gladioli, morning glories, white rosebuds lily-of-the-valley and a touch of pink bridal wreath with baby's breath and seed pearls.

Maid of honor was Tina Childers. Bridesmaids were Dianne Strong of Bay St. Louis, sister of the bride; Christine Nixon of Orange, Tex.; and Myra Padilla of Pass Christian.

Sharing and caring for others a priority for Mary Doug Chevis

By Joe Pilet

Should you ask me "Who is Mary Doug?" right away I would know that you are a newcomer to Hancock County, because Mary Doug is widely known and dearly loved.

But I would answer you by saying that Mary Doug is the wife of Dr. Sidney Chevis. She is the daughter of Ed Murtagh, our tax assessor, and she is the mother of Karen, Billy and Patay. I would tell you that she is that good natured and energetic lady who takes her turn regularly in the March Against Abortion.

Her home is the center of hospitality. Her garden a delightfully relaxing place with magnolias, redwoods, pines, yews and many flowering shrubs. Mary Doug does her own housework and gardening and found time to do some voluntary teaching at Bay Catholic Elementary School.

Now I will tell you the most unusual thing about Mary Doug. She has a deep reverence for life and believes that all children should be received into this world with a warm welcome. They should be showered with love and affection, kept clean and well fed and given the assurance that they are a part of God's plan with a special mission which only they can accomplish.

In cooperation with Catholic Charities Mary Doug has received into her heart and home no less than 18 babies who were tenderly cared for until their adoptive parents could make the necessary arrangements to accept them. All but one of these infants were boys. The longest period of stay for any child was ten weeks.

Young children are demanding little creatures. They must be fed in the wee small hours of the night. They must be kept dry and clean and soothed when they are lonely or frightened or uncomfortable. These needs were met as a "family affair" with the Chevis' children and the good doctor taking turns with the chores. They did it eagerly and willingly.

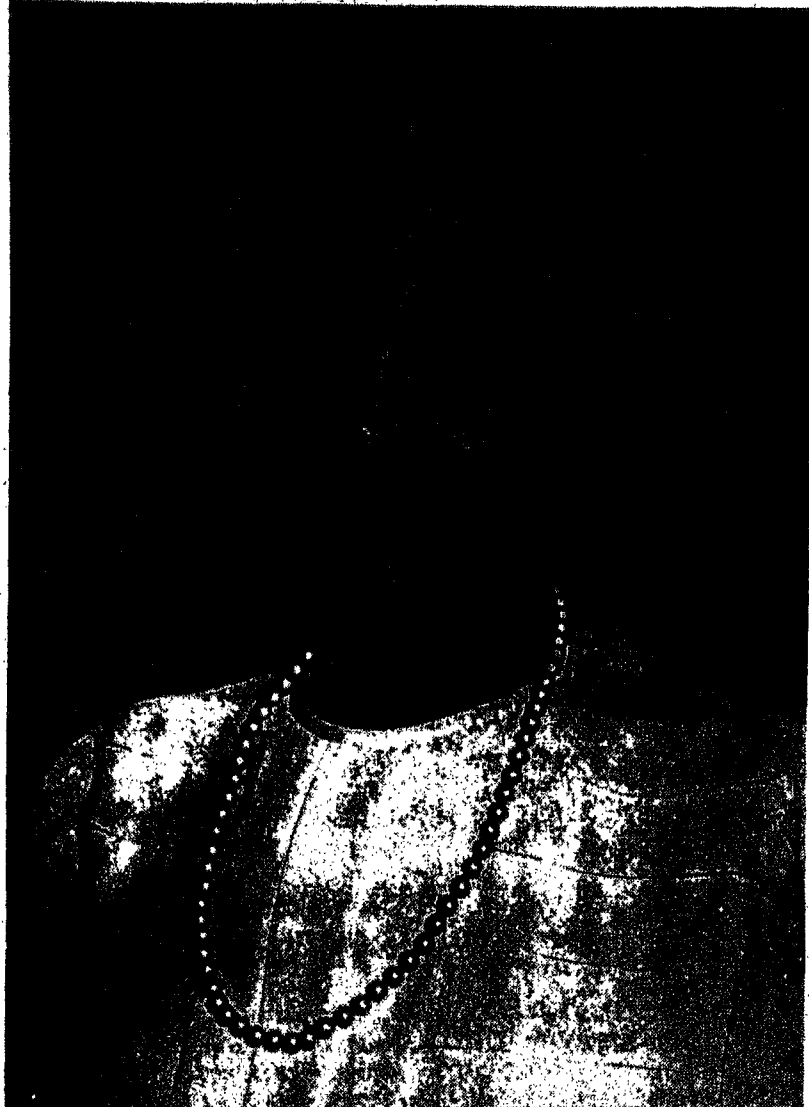

No baby has received a warmer welcome than Number fifteen who is a black child almost five months old. His name is Mike. He has a happy personality and charms all who meet him. His skin is like rich brown velvet. His eyes show trust and gentleness much like the eyes of a young deer. He is well developed and strong. Currently he is plagued with the itch that comes with teething. He will accept your finger, a bit of blanket, a toy - anything to help relieve that itch. There are no tears. No fretting.

How does Mary Doug manage the care of this child and do all the other things a homemaker and mother must do? She hires no maid. She has no baby sitter. Mike simply rides along in his go-cart to the super markets, and on all errands as well as to church where he is "a conversation piece". Worshipers express a willingness to help - to contribute - and also express their admiration for the attitude taken by Mary Doug in accepting the care of and responsibility for her only black child. Babies need homes, love, care, and the true Christian knows no prejudice because of race, sex, color of skin or creed. "Not what we give, but what we share" is the highest mark of the teachings and examples set by Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

What a joy to know this cheerful, capable person who has contributed so much to the well being of so many!

THOMAS SATTERLEE

BY
MC GUIRE
CAIRE

Once you've enjoyed the delicious turkey dinner and those luscious cold turkey sandwiches, with generous splashes of cranberry sauce and, of course, a bit of the dressing or stuffing mixed in, what do you do with what's left?

Turkey salad - turkey a la king - and so on and so on, even turkey hash come to mind. But one of my favorite ways to say farewell to turkey is:

TURKEY DIVAN
(It's a tasty blending of turkey and broccoli in a creamy-cheesy-winey-spicy overcoat).
2 packages frozen broccoli, cooked (or fresh broccoli, if you've any energy left after the big hash)
Slices or chunks of turkey, equal to two cups

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
2 cups milk
2 Tbsp. grated Parmesan cheese
Dashes of Worcestershire sauce,
Tabasco, pepper, salt, lemon juice Generous splash, jigger or so, of sherry or brandy.

Make a cream sauce of the butter, flour and milk. (You know, melt the butter, add the flour to make a light roux, stir around, add the milk, stir some more and keep warm.)
Meanwhile, place the cooked broccoli in the bottom of a casserole, top with the turkey slices or pieces, and pour the sauce over.

Top with well-seasoned bread crumbs, to your taste, well spiked with Parmesan cheese, pop into a 350 degree oven for a half hour or so, until it all crusts rather well, and serve with hot French bread a-drip with butter, along with a green salad of your choice. (Six servings).

ETV Brief

HOLIDAY SPECIALS

Two popular seasonal classics, "The Nutcracker with Mikhail Baryshnikov" and "Hanukkah," mark the beginning of Mississippi ETV's annual holiday season television specials. Both air on Wednesday, Dec. 4.

The American Ballet Theatre production of the enchanting children's story "The Nutcracker" stars Mikhail Baryshnikov as the nutcracker who is magically transformed into a prince. Gelsey Kirkland stars as young Clara, whose Christmas Eve dreams conjure up dancing toys and battling toy soldiers. The presentation of this fairy tale begins at 8 p.m.

Immediately afterward, at 9:30 p.m., Edward Asner hosts "Hanukkah," the award-winning ETV production about the history, customs and significance of this Jewish holiday. "Hanukkah" recounts the events of more than 2,000 years ago that led to the celebration each year of the eight-day midwinter festival by Jews the world over. These eight days are a time of family unity, and the program uses the home services as the thread of continuity that links the historical exposition to modern practices and beliefs.

24-HOUR EMERGENCY CARE

When accidents happen or illness strikes, the need for prompt, expert medical care can be critical.

Now you can have peace of mind, knowing that 24-hour emergency care is only minutes away.

NorthShore Regional Medical Center offers complete round-the-clock emergency medical services:

•The only ambulance service on the North Shore with 24-hour coverage by national registered paramedics, from the emergency site to the hospital. Registered paramedics are specialists in recognizing and responding to life-threatening crises.

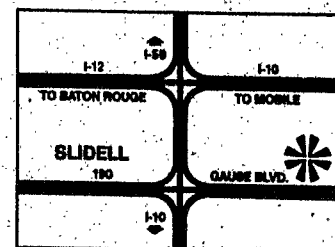

•A highly skilled, caring emergency and trauma staff, backed by our medical staff of leading area physicians.

•State-of-the-art equipment in ambulances and the Emergency Room.

Another advantage: tiered-pricing

Tiered-pricing means that you pay only for the degree of care you require. Unlike most hospitals, NorthShore does not charge a flat fee for Emergency Room admissions. In other words, a sore throat doesn't cost you as much as a serious fracture.

For yourself and your loved ones, remember NorthShore's 24-Hour Emergency Care Ambulance Service: 646-5050. Outside Louisiana, call toll-free: 1-800-344-6695.

1 mile south of the I-10, I-59 and I-59 intersection. Adjacent to the Cause Blvd. (190) exit, east of I-10.
